The Story of Savitribai Phule

Long ago, when most girls in India were not allowed to go to school, a brave woman named Savitribai Phule dreamed of change.

Savitribai was born on 3rd January 1831 in Maharashtra. In those days, people believed that girls did not need education. But Savitribai believed the opposite — she believed that education could change lives.

With the support of her husband, Jyotirao Phule, Savitribai began learning to read and write. Soon, she became India's first woman teacher. In 1848, the couple opened the first school for girls in Pune.
